Apostolical Succession Overthrown, and Evangelical Succession Established.

By a Comparison of the Qualifications, Functions, and Endowments respectively assigned by Jesus Christ to the Apostles, and to their successors in the Ministry of the New Covenant.

BY A CLERGYMAN OF THE ESTABLISHED CHURCH.

"The author proves that the Apostles, as such, had no successors; that the commission given to them, as ministers of the Gospel, was totally distinct from the commission under which they exercised apostolic authority; and that the radical error of Rome and Romanizers consists in claiming not only the untransferable prerogatives of the Apostles, but even greater powers than the apostles ever attempted to exercise. The argument is elaborated with much care, and the book deserves an attentive perusal."—Achill Missionary Herald.

"We recommend 'Apostolical Succession Overthrown' and Evangelical Succession Established' as a judicious treatise on this important question."—Record.

The World in which I Live, and my Place in it, BY E. S. A.

Edited by the Rev. JOHN H. BROOME.

The object of this book is to present a succinct history, from the creation to the present time, in connection with Scripture, and with the progress of the Church of Christ.

It is hoped that this slight sketch of the History of the World and of the Church may help the young reader to discern God's moral government and man's duty.

The study of History invariably inculcates principles.

The Romish Church, alive to this fact, is most careful that the Histories put into the hands of her children shall be those of her own writers. But the Protestant Church has hitherto possessed no Epitome of History sufficiently simple to meet the requirements of her youthful students.

The plan of the book embraces a general view of the History of all known nations, having regard to their chronological connection with each other, with copious and comprehensive indexes; and by thus commencing the study of history from the beginning, a good foundation will be laid for the fuller study of any particular History.

The Book will be Published by Subscription, price 5s. 6d., and the Names of intending Subscribers are requested to be sent to WILLIAM CURRY and Co., Dublin, or to Wertheim and Macintosh, London, as early as possible.

Just Published, in 8vo, 490 pp., with Map, price 3s. 6d., Cloth,

PILGRIMAGE FROM THE ALPS TO THE TIBET OR, THE INFLUENCE OF ROMANISM ON TRADE, JUSTICE, AND KNOWLEDGE.

By the Rev. J. A. WYLIE, LL.D., Author of "Modena Judea;" "Scenes from the Bible," &c.

"This is a remarkable book. Its descriptions are literally fascinating. The great scenery of Italy has been painted by tourists since the days of antiquity, but the sketches of Dr. Wylie possess a freshness and an interest peculiar to the author; and it is no exaggeration to say that many of these sketches, in relation even to familiar objects, are surpassed by no similar descriptions in the English language. . . . Dr. Wylie's book administers to the Roman Papacy a deadlier blow by far than any merely theological disquisition could have inflicted, and for this paramount reason, that its social workings are here exhibited in the shape of undeniable, terrible facts."

Edinburgh: Shepherd and Elliot. Dublin: WILLIAM CURRY and Co., 9, Upper Sackville-street.

In the Press, and will shortly be published, in One Volume 8vo.,
